Our clients include a wide variety of players - from multinationals and investment funds to family-owned businesses and African champions. We had the opportunity to work alongside global names such as Unilever, Air Liquide, and AXA, as well as regional firms like Avisen in Senegal or I&M Group in East Africa. Our client base also includes private equity funds such as Apis Partners, Adenia or Amethis.

We focus on industries that create long-term value to African economies, favoring sectors with high local content and strong potential for job creation. More specifically, we developed a solid expertise in FMCG, agribusiness, manufacturing, telecom, energy, financial sector, health and technology. Our track record includes several cross-border transactions involving investors from Africa, Europe and Asia.
